Autumn Birdies

by John C. Green

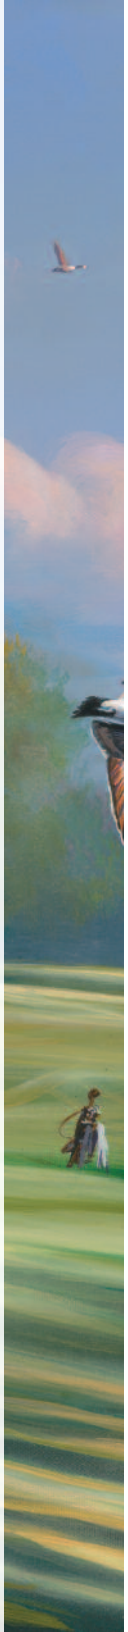
Fall is a splendid time to bring together two favorite pastimes. Autumn Birdies depicts a scene not uncommon to many as seasons often overlap in South Dakota.

Autumn Birdies is the third in a series of prints being offered by Madison artist John C. Green to benefit the South Dakota Junior Golf Foundation. John's first prints in the series, From Green to Green and Fore on Four have proven to be very popular and a "must have" for the serious art collector.

About John C. Green

An accomplished wildlife artist, the Madison, SD, native has agreed to produce a series of prints for the South Dakota Junior Golf Foundation. Only 300 signed and numbered "Autumn Birdies" prints are available. John donated the print, so all proceeds from the sale of the prints go directly to the South Dakota Junior Golf Foundation.

John C. Green has earned recognition in the art community through his faithful rendition of outdoor and scenic images that capture the spirit of his native state. He is an established artist with superb credentials. He recently celebrated his 30th year as a professional artist.



You now have the opportunity to own a signed and numbered limited-edition print by renowned artist John Green! By doing so, you will be helping the South Dakota junior Golf Foundation.
